

US Force Travel Guide to Military Installations

You can save money and have more fun with the help of this guide. You can stay with family on your next move - your military family! Plan your trip to include staying at military installations and for shopping en route. You will find savings, familiar surroundings and more safety - no matter where you go. Military installations not only offer temporary military lodging to those military ID card holders on the road again. All kinds of facilities are available to help cut your cost on the way. The big news in savings is for our Guard and Reserve families. They can now use temporary military lodging and military RV, camping and recreation areas on the same basis as active duty personnel and their families. This guide has handy map keys and location Identifiers Example (AL01R2), the first two characters (letters) are Country/State abbreviations used in Military Livings books (Appendix A). The next two characters are random numbers (00-99) assigned in a specific location. The fifth character is an R indicating region and the sixth character is the region number.
